Battle of the Badges

On Saturday April 8, 2017 the Tipp City Police Department and the Tipp City Fire Department faced off in "The Battle of the Badges", a friendly basketball game to raise money for Tipp-Monroe Community Services and The Needy Basket. The officers and firemen all had a great time playing and the game definitely did not disappoint those who came to watch. The event raised over $2,000 dollars for Community Services, $500 dollars for Parents Who Care (to be used for the after-prom event) and a large container filled with canned food for Needy Basket. In the end, the police department scored more points, but the community was the winner. Many people contributed to the success of the game, but none as much as Officer Kelli Schulte who went above and beyond to make the game a great night for everyone involved. ●

Welcome Officer Johnston

Introducing our newest Tipp City police officer, Ryan Johnston. Ryan started his Field Training Program with Officer Adam Grubb in early April and is a recent graduate of Cedarville University where he obtained a Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice. Ryan is happy to be here and said, "As soon as I began the application process with Tipp City Police Department I knew this was where I wanted to be and was overjoyed to be offered a position here. Ryan was sent to the Greene County Career Center Police Academy and graduated in March. Ryan says, "I have been enjoying getting to know Tipp City and the many wonderful people that make this town great." Ryan is originally from North Western Indiana and is new to the area, but he says, "The police department and community members have been very welcoming and kind." Ryan and his fiancé, Tina, and I are thrilled to have the opportunity to become a part of this community and look forward to serving in whatever ways they can. Ryan added, "Every day seems to present new challenges and tasks but with those come new friends and experiences. I am excited to have the opportunity to serve and protect the City of Tipp City and aid in making it a great place to live, work and raise a family." ●
